Narrative Summary of Coordination and Events To-Date in CONNECTICUT Wing:

Col. James A Ridley appointed a team to prepare the CTWG Phase 1 remobilization plan for your review. This team includes members with a variety of backgrounds; A legal officer and practicing doctor, a health services officer, a current squadron commander who also serves CTWG as Asst. Director of Operations and having a professional public safety background, and the CTWG Chief of Staff.

The State of Connecticut was exposed rapidly and quickly at the beginning of the COVID-19 pandemic. Since 23 March, Connecticut has been experiencing a steady decline in the infection rate. As of 6 June the CovidActNow website (<https://covidactnow.org/us/ct/>) reflects Connecticut Infection Rate (Figure 1) as green (low) since 20 May at a rate of 0.76 and continuing to trend down. Four counties in CT are experiencing a yellow (medium) infection rate. These counties are predicted to reach green stage by mid-June based on trend analysis.

Our ICU Headroom (Figure 3) is currently @ 42% and steadily declining at an average trending rate of 2% / day since 20 May (last day at 100%). Our current 3.5% 7-day trailing Positive test rate (Figure 2) continues to decline trending downward at approximately 0.4% / day and borderline green stage (3%). It is expected to trend green in the next several days.

Our team has carefully studied the COVID-19 letters, memos, and executive orders posted on local city and state websites. Based on our findings, and the restrictions listed in this Remobilization plan the committee feels strongly that the data provides justification to move forward with our Phase 1 plan.

Governor Ned Lamont issued a “Stay Safe, Stay Home” Phase I plan that went into effect on 22 March 2020. As of early May the state continues to progress in reducing the spread of COVID-19, increasing availability of diagnostic test kits, and maintaining an adequate number of ICU beds to respond to any identified hotspots.

Gov. Lamont plans to enter Phase II reopening on or about 20 June. Assuming this occurs, CTWG shall file a PHASE II opening plan with CAP NHQ for approval with an expected 6 JULY Phase II re-opening for CTWG members.

Based on the data provided in this document with regard to COVID-19, the CTWG will continue to protect our members as we begin a transition into phase 1. The CTWG and the Remobilization committee will closely monitor national, State, and local COVID-19 data to allow a quick response to any changing conditions that may necessitate a reversion to Phase 0 if warranted at the State and/or local level.

Positive test rate

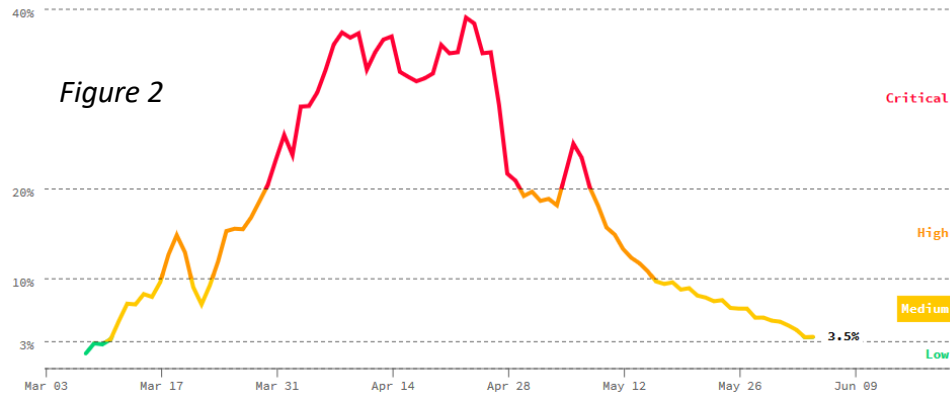

CONNECTICUT

A significant percentage (3.5%) of COVID tests were positive, meaning that Connecticut's testing meets WHO minimums but needs to be further expanded to detect most new cases. Identifying and isolating new cases can help contain COVID without resorting to lockdowns.

CTWG is planning to enter Phase 1 no earlier than 12 June.

CTWG Col. James Ridley will conduct a virtual meeting with all subordinate unit commanders upon approval of this remobilization plan and prior to implementation to ensure comprehension and complete understanding of what our specific plan allows and to what extent.

Connecticut has about 674 ICU beds. We estimate that 35% (235) are currently occupied by non-COVID patients. Of the remaining 439 ICU beds, we estimate 183 are occupied by COVID cases, or 42% of available beds. This suggests there is likely enough capacity to absorb a wave of new COVID infections.

COVID-19 Remobilization of the Membership Plan – Phase I

Connecticut Wing Civil Air Patrol Operations Plan COVID-19 Remobilization (Phase 1) 6 June 2020

1. Situation

1.1. Pandemic Threat

- 1.1.1. COVID-19 is a novel coronavirus that created a global outbreak and associated public health declarations including social distancing, protective equipment, and an increased focus on hygiene. Because of the variation in impacts and legal restrictions across the various states, there is no one-size-fits-all response for the Civil Air Patrol (CAP) to use in this situation. The Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) published a general FAQ about this disease on their website: <https://www.cdc.gov/coronavirus/2019-ncov/faq.html>.
- 1.1.1. Federal, state and local governments will continue to enact proactive steps to slow the spread of the disease, while carefully balancing other considerations for easing restrictions. The potential for disease resurgence and breakouts will likely necessitate the need to implement further restrictions or retrograde to earlier phases.

1.2. CAP Organizations and Government Partners

- 1.2.1. HQ CAP Mission: CAP Wing Commanders will proactively make their Wings ready to resume regularly scheduled meetings, single-day events, and overnight activities in accordance with local, state, and federal guidance. A phased-approach, based on the White House "opening Up America Plan" will help align efforts across Wings and Regions, and communicate where personnel are in the process to returning to a post-COVID-19 "normal" operations tempo.

1.3. State and local governments:

2. Mission

2.1. Transition to Phase 1

- 2.1.1. On order, CTWing will transition to Phase I operations at the local level in order to deliberately and incrementally increase operating capacity on the way to resuming normal operations and fulfilling our three (3) Congressionally-chartered missions.
