PUBLICATION MANAGEMENT

CAP Regulation 1-2, dated 7 November 2016 is supplemented as follows. NOTE: this supplement is new in its entirety.

4. (Added) All submitted supplements, operating instructions (OI), pamphlets, and forms require wing commander review and approval prior to being submitted to NHQ for approval and issuance.

8.3.2.5. (Added) The CAWG/DA serves as the focal point for all supplements, OIs, pamphlets, and forms and will coordinate with the author or OPR, the wing headquarters staff OPRs, the wing commander, and PCR/DA for version control and continuity purposes. All supplement, OI, pamphlet, and form submissions to the Wing will start with, be routed by, and submitted to PCR by the CAWG/DA. All supplements, OIs, pamphlets, and form submissions will be submitted in an editable format such as Microsoft Word or Excel.

8.3.3. (Added) All supplements, operating instructions, pamphlets, and forms require wing commander review and approval prior to being submitted to PCR for approval and forwarding to NHQ.

8.3.3.3. (Added) The proposed draft supplement, OI, pamphlet, or form will be forwarded to the CAWG/DA for routing to the appropriate CAWG OPR for review and coordination with the submitting department/unit. Within seven days after submission, the CAWG OPR will either approve the publication and refer it to the wing commander for review and approval or will advise the CAWG/DA to return to the submitter, noting the reason for disapproval and action to secure approval. The wing commander will either approve and forward through the CAWG/DA for submission to PCR/DA or return to the submitting department/unit, noting the disapproval and action to secure approval.

Ross Veta, Colonel, CAP
